IOM MISSION STATEMENT

The International Organisation for Migration (IOM) is committed to the principle that humane and orderly migration benefits migrants and society. IOM was established in 1951 to help governments to manage migration and to assist migrants in the migration process. Today, with 401 Country Offices and 9 Regional Offices, 2 Administrative Centres, 1 Global Migration Data Analysis Center (GMAC), IOM is the leading intergovernmental organization in the field of migration. IOM continues to grow, currently counting 166 Member States, with a further 8 States holding observer status, and 134 international and non-governmental organizations. More than 80,000 voluntary returnees from the EU were assisted by IOM in 2016. In 2015, IOM assisted 52,512 migrants through approximately 75 AVRR programs in the EU. IOM works with its partners in the international community to assist in meeting the growing operational challenges of migration, advance understanding of migration issues, encourage social and economic development through migration and uphold the well-being and human rights of migrants.
